III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

- ☐ the entire international application.
☒ claims Nos. 31-40.

III

Claims 31-40 relate to a method for medical treatment of the human or animal body.

V

- (N) A drug targeting system for administration to a mammal comprising nanoparticles made of a polymeric material, said nanoparticles comprising said polymeric material, one or more physiologically effective substance(s) to be delivered to said mammal and one or more stabilizer(s) for said nanoparticles allowing targeting of said physiologically effective substance(s) to a specific site within or on a mammalian body, and a physiologically acceptable carrier and/or diluent allowing the transport of said nanoparticles to the target within said mammal after administration, as defined in claims 1 to 14 of the present application, is already disclosed in documents WO95/22963 (D1), WO94/15590 (D2), EP-A-0 330 180 (D3), EP-A-0 486 959 (D4) and FR-A-2 612 400 (D5). The same applies to the method for preparing said drug targeting systems (claims 15-30) and to the use of said drug targeting system for the preparation of a medicament (claims 31-37) and to the method as defined in claims 38 to 40 of the present application.

The relevant passages are: D1; page 7, lines 8-13; page 9 -page 13; examples 1, 2; claims 1-30 -- D2; page 1, lines 5-8; page 2, line 3-4, 25-30; page 4, lines 13-15; page 5, lines 7-10; page 6, line 22 - page 7, line 2; page 7, lines 20-23; page 9, line 28 - page 10, line 14; example 8 -- D3; abstract; page 4, lines 8-17; page 5, lines 2-25; example 1 -- D4; abstract; page 3, line 43; page 4, lines 6-7; examples; claims 1-6 -- D5; abstract; page 3, line 39 - page 4, line 6; page 8, line 37 - page 9, line 27; page 9, lines 36-38; claims 2,9,14 and 15.

The stabilizers used according to the present application are defined in claims 9 to 13 and in the description page 18, last paragraph to page 19, third paragraph.

Such substances are disclosed in the documents D1 to D5 mentioned above.

The expression "... and one or more stabilizer(s) for said nanoparticles allowing targeting of said physiologically effective substance(s) to a specific site within or on a mammalian body;" in claim 1, characterises the invention by indication of the result to be achieved (cf. description, page 4, paragraph 3), and does not imply any technical feature which would distinguish the claimed subject-matter from that known from the prior art (Guidelines C-IV 7.6 PCT).

- (IS) The question - Is there inventive step - only arises if there is novelty.
Moreover, it appears that the problem which faced the skilled man at the priority date of the present Application (description page 4, last paragraph) has already been described and solved in document D1 (D1; page 5, paragraph 3 to page 6, paragraph 4).
- (IA) The industrial applicability is beyond any doubt.

Industrial applicability of claims 31-40

The wording of claims 31-37 "Use of the drug targeting system in the preparation of a medicament allowing one or more physiologically effective substance(s) to be targeted to a specific site within or on a mammalian body" is not clearly directed to the use of said system for the preparation of a medicament. The claimed use in the preparation of a medicament is still directed to the medicament as such. However, the use of a medicament allowing one or more physiologically effective substance(s) to be targeted to a specific site within or on a mammalian body, relates to a method for medical treatment of the human or animal body. Claims 38-40 directly relate to a method for medical treatment of the human or animal body.

For the assessment of the present claims 31-40 on the question whether they are industrially applicable no unified criteria exist in the PCT Contracting States. The patentability can also be dependent upon the formulation of the claims. The EPO, for example, does not recognize as industrially applicable the subject-matter of claims directed to the use of a compound in medical treatment, but may allow, however, claims directed to a known compound for first use in medical treatment and the use of such a compound for the manufacture of a medicament for a new medical treatment.

(54) Title: DRUG TARGETING SYSTEM, METHOD OF ITS PREPARATION AND ITS USE
(57) Abstract A composition and method of fabrication are presented with which nanoparticles may be used as a tool to deliver drugs to a specific target within or on a mammalian body. Specifically, by using stabilizers other than Dextran 70.000 during the polymerization process, according to the present invention, surfactants, which were deemed necessary coating material in the prior art, are no longer required. This is a significant simplification of the fabrication procedure. Many substances are useful as stabilizers, but the preferred stabilizers comprise Dextran 12.000 or polysorbate 85. In the present invention a drug is either incorporated into or adsorbed onto the stabilized nanoparticles. This drug/nanoparticle complex is then administered to the organism on any route such as by oral application, injection or inhalation, whereupon the drug exerts its effect at the desired site of pharmacological action. In a novel medical treatment process, the drug/nanoparticle complex may be administered preferably either by intravenous injection or by oral application. The resulting drug action, which does not occur or which occurs only to an insufficient extent when the drug is administered alone, shows that when linked to said nanoparticles drugs can reach a specific target within or on the mammalian body. The usefulness of the present invention as a universal approach to deliver any drug or diagnostic agent to a specific target within or on the mammalian body was demonstrated by experiments showing an unexpected transfer of the drug across the blood brain barrier.
